Abstrack

tujuan penelitian yang pertama sinkronkan secara baik dengan hasil penelitian yg anda tuliskan di bawahnya

Pollution and/or environmental damage continues to occur and according to the Environmental Quality Index (IKLH) the environment in Indonesia is increasingly damaged and many parties are harmed both humans and the environment itself but an effective settlement of environmental cases has not been found. Thus it is necessary to think about being able to resolve environmental issues that are effective and considerate justice the environment itself. A good and healthy living environment should be realized. This desire can be realized by applying appropriate laws that can deter perpetrators of environmental pollution and/or destruction. The purpose of this research is; to analyze and explain the effective resolution of environmental cases that takes into account the environment itself and the application of criminal law that can deter perpetrators of environmental pollution and/or destruction. The research method used is normative legal research to find the law for an in-concreto case. Criminal law instruments in the settlement of environmental cases in judicial practice, there are still obstacles in presenting evidence, it is still necessary to think about other issues that are not regulated in the law, especially the formulation of environmental offenses. The use of criminal law instruments is more effective because prosecutors have wider powers of coercion, for example detention, search, and faster execution. Criminal law instruments not only deter people who violate them but are also aimed at other people so they do not commit acts that violate the law if they do not want to be subject to criminal sanctions.

Penyajian Fokus Tulisan (Objective) * belum terlihat urgensi penelitian ini apa, bisa ditambahkan contoh kasus lingkungan yang penyelesaiannya di pengadilan dianggap buruk	The Supreme Court uses the term environmental case in environmental violations. The definition of environmental cases according to Article 1 paragraph (9), Decision of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the Republic of Indonesia Number: 26/KMA/SK/11/2013 Concerning the System for Selection and Appointment of Environmental Judges is: "environmental cases are violations of criminal, civil, or administration in the field of environmental protection and management, including but not limited to regulations in the fields of forestry, plantation, mining, coastal and marine, spatial planning, water resources, energy, industry, and/or natural resource conservation.
Metodologi &amp; Teori (Method &amp; Theory) * Cukup
Penyajian dan Analisis Data (The data presentation &amp; Analysis) * sertakan teori keadilan lingkungan, bagaimana teori ini harus dipahami semua hakim lingkungan agar menghasilkan putusan yang berpihak pada lingkungan hidup Kontribusi Keilmuan &amp; Kebaharuan (Findings and Contribution to the knowledge) * Ditambahkan ditonjolkan	Deep ecology (deep ecology) is an environmental philosophy that was first introduced by the Norwegian philosopher, Arne Naess in 1973. Deep ecology demands a new ethic that is not centered on humans, but centered on all living things in relation to efforts to overcome environmental problems. 8 Rochmani, et al, 2021, Legal Realism in Settlement of Environmental Cases in Court after the Covid-19 Pandemic in Indonesia, Journal of Environmental Law Development, volume 5, Number 3, June 2021, Bandung, H.540 lens. Man is no longer the center of the moral world. Deep ecology instead it focuses attention on all species, including non-human species. Deep ecology not only focus on short term interests, but also long term interests. Hence

the developed moral principles Deep ecology concerns the interests of the entire ecological community.<sup>9</sup> Therefore Deep ecology not only paying attention to the current state of the environment, but also paying attention to future environmental conditions or environmental sustainability. It's not just quality that matters Deep ecology but also the quantity of the environment, including the humans in it. Deep ecology wants to pay attention to environmental sustainability.
