

BIBLIOGRAPHY

Afkhami, Mahnaz. Eisenberg, Ann. Vaziri, Haleh. 2001. “Leading to Choices: A Leadership Training Handbook for Women”

Antrobus, Peggy. 2002. Feminism as Transformational Politics: Towards possibilities for another world.

Barton, Tracy. 2006. “Feminist Leadership: Building Nurturing Academic Communities” , in Advancing Women’s Leadership.

Batliwala, Srilatha. 2010. Feminist Leadership for Social Transformation: Clearing the Conceptual Cloud. Bangalore: AWID.

Beauvoir, Simone de. 1949. The Second Sex. New York: Random House Inc.

Baumgardner, Jennifer, Amy Richards. 2000. Manifesta: Young Women, Feminism, and the Future. California: Straus and Giroux Press.

Dahiya, Anuj. 2015. Literary Criticism. Feminism in Literature. UGC NET English.

Dulay, Saladin. 2017. *Gender and Patriarchy Issues in Women’s Village Apparatus Domination in Plantation Community of North Sumatra.*Journal of Education and Humanities Research (ASSEHR).

<https://www.aresearchguide.com/character-types-in-literature.html> 60

<https://www.cram.com/essay/Feminism-Is-Defined-By-Google/P3QTXLF2B5YQ>

Jain, Devaki. 1995. “Why women? Is there a Special Quality in Women’s Leadership?”

Suhadi, Agung. 2015. A Feminism Reading in Nathaniel’s Birthmark and Rappacini’s Daughter.

Therborn, Goar. 2004. Between Sex and Power-Family in the World. London: Routledge.

Tri Santosa, Budi. 2015. An Analysis of The main Female Character’s Efforts in John Steinbeck’s The Grapes of Wrath. Yogyakarta: English Language And Literature Study Program, English Education Department Faculty Of Languages And Arts, State Yogyakarta University.

Walby, Sylvia. 1990. Theorizing Patriarchy. Oxford: Basil Blackwell Ltd.

Wollstonecraft, Mary. 1792. Vindication of the Rights Women.