

ABSTRACT

Sari, Devi Novita. 2022. Racial Discrimination toward Africans-Americans in Spike Lee's "BlacKkKlansman (2018)". A research paper, English Department, Undergraduate Program of Unisbank, Semarang, Supervised by Teguh Kasprabowo, S.Pd, M.Pd.

Keywords: racism, racial discrimination, main characters, movie.

This research paper entitled Racial Discrimination toward Africans-Americans in Spike Lee's "BlacKkKlansman (2018)" aims to explain the types of discrimination endured by the main character and how he fought against those acts. The theory proposed by Blank (2004) Measuring Racial Discrimination was used to analyze the data. Using a qualitative approach, the researcher collected the data by watching the movie, making categories, coding the categories, and interpreting them to explain racial discrimination. The result of this study showed to revealed acted of discrimination and how the main character fought against the enemy for doing discrimination was also described.