ABSTRACT

‘Aliy Hafiiizh, Rijal. 2022. Law Enforcement Against Violations of Health Protocol Virus Disease 19 (Covid-19) in Demak District Based on Regional Regulation of Demak Regency Number 3 Year 2021. Skripsi. Semarang: Faculty of Law and Languages, Stikubank University, Semarang.

Law enforcement is aimed at improving order and legal certainty in society, among others, by controlling the functions, duties and authorities of institutions tasked with enforcing the law and based on a good cooperation system as an effort to prevent and control Covid-19 in Demak Regency. The approach method used is normative juridical, descriptive analytical research specifications by describing the object of research based on laws and regulations and aims to analyze and describe an object that is a problem in research regarding "Law enforcement and sanctions given to violators of the Corona virus disease 19 health protocol. (covid-19) in the district of Demak Based on the regional regulation of the district of Demak number 3 of 2021 "Technical collection of library data, and interviews with the presentation of descriptive data, namely explaining or describing the facts that occur in the object of research accurately and clearly to obtain clarity about problems that arise with the analytical descriptive analysis method. The Demak district government has made preventive efforts by conducting socialization to all levels of society so that it is important to maintain and implement health protocols when the atmosphere of community life is not conducive and seems uncertain due to the Covid-19 outbreak as a form of law enforcement efforts. Law enforcement for health protocol violations (covid-19) have been implemented based on the Demak district regulation number 3 of 2021 covering, implementation, monitoring and evaluation, improving health care, socialization and participation, funding, and imposing sanctions. The repressive efforts made by the Demak Regency Government to enforce health protocols by imposing sanctions on the spot for violators of the Covid-19 health protocol, with this action, it appears that the Demak Regency government has started to enforce health protocols as regulated in the Demak Regency Regional Regulation Number 3 years. 2021 by applying written warning sanctions, administrative sanctions, social sanctions and criminal sanctions to violators.
